The Benny prepaid benefits card will help you pay for medical costs. The first thing to remember when using the Benny prepaid benefits card is to save your receipts. The IRS, which governs the use of the Benny prepaid benefits card, allows some of the expenses you incur to be automatically approved. But this won't always happen. In some cases, you'll receive a letter asking for an itemized receipt of the purchase. When you receive this letter, make sure you submit the receipts as soon as possible to avoid having the card suspended.

You might receive a letter requesting an itemized receipt when:

- You use your Benny prepaid benefits card to pay a coinsurance bill from a doctor (for amounts not covered by insurance) that is not a standard copay.
- You or your dependents are not covered by your employer's health plan.
- You buy items that are not eligible along with FSA-eligible items in a pharmacy, medical, dental or vision location.
- You purchase over-the-counter items from stores that do not electronically identify FSA-eligible items.

What is an itemized receipt?

An itemized receipt must include:

- The merchant or provider's name.
- The patient's name.
- Services received or items purchased.
- Date of service.
- The amount of expense that is the patients' responsibility after all applicable insurance has been considered.

Cancelled checks, card transaction receipts or previous balance receipts are not valid forms of an itemized receipt.
