Welcome to Moberly Area Community College! We want you to know the Financial Aid Office is dedicated to helping students, and we will do everything we can to make your learning experience at MACC truly rewarding. Although the primary financial responsibility for your education rests with you and your family, MACC will do its best to bridge the gap between what it costs to attend and what you can afford to pay.

Financial Aid can be a little intimidating. This guide will give you necessary information to help navigate the process, or at least make it a little easier to understand!

Types of Financial Aid

Financial Aid is any type of funding that helps cover the cost of your education. Financial Aid comes in many forms. Below is a list of the most common types of financial aid. Please visit https://www.macc.edu/financial-aid-types for a compressive list of types of financial aid as well as general eligibility criteria. You may also find more information about all federal student aid programs online at StudentAid.gov; additionally, information about state programs can be found online at https://journeytocollege.mo.gov/.

Federal Grants Programs: Grants are considered “gift aid,” which means they do not have to be repaid. Federal grant eligibility is determined by the information provided on the Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA), as well as the student’s enrollment status each semester. Common federal grant programs include the Federal PELL Grant and SEOG Grant.

Federal Work-Study Program: The Federal Work-Study Program provides campus jobs for eligible students. A student must have a valid Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA) on file to determine eligibility. To apply for a work-study job you MUST complete a separate application, which is available in the Financial Aid Office and online at https://www.macc.edu/financial-aid-forms. Federal Work-Study Program jobs are limited and selection is made by the supervisor in each department on a first-come, first-served basis.

Federal Direct Student Loans: Federal Direct Student Loans are borrowed funds which must be repaid, with interest, after you are no longer a student or drop below half-time enrollment status (6 credit hours). MACC does not automatically package student loans in your initial financial aid offer. You MUST APPLY by completing a Student Loan Data Sheet and additional program requirements. The Student Loan Data Sheet and Guide are available in the Financial Aid Office and online at https://www.macc.edu/financial-aid-forms.

- Federal Subsidized Loan—Subsidized loans are need-based. Repayment is deferred and there is no interest accruing as long as you are enrolled at least half-time.
- Federal Unsubsidized Loan—Unsubsidized loans are non-need-based and interest begins accruing immediately. While in school, the principal of the loan is deferred and the interest can be paid periodically or capitalized.
- Federal Parent PLUS Loan—PLUS loans are available for parents of dependent students. They are non-need-based. Interest begins accruing immediately and repayment begins 60 days following disbursement.

State of Missouri Financial Aid Programs: The Missouri Department of Higher Education and Workforce Development (MDWEWD) offers several programs to assist Missouri residents in funding their education, such as the A+ Scholarship, Access Missouri Grant, Bright Flight, and the Fast Track Workforce Incentive Grant. Some programs may require additional applications. Additional information can be found in the Financial Aid Office and online at https://journeytocollege.mo.gov/.

Other Scholarships and Resources: Students are encouraged to seek scholarships from private resources as well as apply for MACC’s Institutional and Endowment Scholarships. Additional outside resources may include Vocational Rehabilitation, WIA, GAMM, and Veteran’s benefits. Please visit https://www.macc.edu/financial-aid-types for more information about these resources.

Disbursement Information

Financial Aid is used to pay any outstanding balance owed to MACC. After the balance has been paid, any remaining funds will generate a credit balance. The Business Office will generate a credit balance refund, which will be disbursed to you in the form of a check to help cover other educationally related expenses, as explained in the Understanding the Cost of Attendance section of this guide.

Disbursements will begin on the 31st day of each semester for your program. Any credit balance refund will be available beginning on the 45th day of the semester. If your financial aid was processed after classes began the dates may be later. The Business Office will inform you via MACC email when the funds are applied to your student account and when and where the refund will be made available.

The Business Office/Cashier’s Window is located on the Moberly campus in the Main Building, and every campus has staff on duty to assist you. They maintain records of all charges and payments made toward the costs of education at Moberly Area Community College, and send billing statements, accordingly. They may be reached at busoffice@macc.edu; or by calling 660-263-4100, ext 11354.
MACC uses a Cost of Attendance (COA) to calculate student financial aid. The COA is a reasonable estimate of the cost of attending MACC. This is not the amount you owe the college.

The COA is the maximum amount of aid a student may receive from all types of aid combined. The Financial Aid Office establishes standard student budgets (also known as the COA) each year as a basis for determining financial aid funds. These budgets reflect typical "modest but adequate" expense patterns of Moberly Area Community College students based on survey results. While actual expenses will vary based on each student's lifestyle and level of enrollment, the estimated costs used in the cost of attendance should assist students with planning their own budgets. The components of the MACC COA are described below:

Fees and Tuition: The fees and tuition component used in the COA is based on the average costs for a typical MACC student, using the average of the in-seat, hybrid and online course rates. The actual costs a student incurs will vary depending on their enrollment choices. A list of current fees and tuition for all MACC courses and students may be found here: https://www.macc.edu/fees-and-tuition-bus

Housing and Meals (also known as “Room and Board”): Unless a student has contracted housing and/or a meal plan with MACC, their housing is discretionary and costs can vary significantly based on their living arrangements and personal choices. The housing and meals component of the COA will be based on information provided on the student’s FAFSA.

| Independent students and Dependent students not living at home | $4,273 per semester |
| Dependent students living at home | $1,904 per semester |
| Students living in dorm with a meal plan | $3,304 per semester |

Books and Supplies: These costs vary by program, course load, and classes selected. Based on survey results, we estimate the books and supplies component to be $312 per semester.

Transportation: The travel allowance is $262 per semester. This allowance includes costs for operating and maintaining a vehicle which is used to transport the student to and from school, but not for the purchase of a vehicle. The amount is based on survey results which indicated the average MACC student travels 38 miles each week to attend classes, multiplied by 43 cents per mile, which is the State of Missouri mileage reimbursement rate. Programs that require additional travel will be adjusted accordingly.

Personal and Miscellaneous: The allowance for personal and miscellaneous expenses is $696 per semester. This category represents all other student expenses such as: cell phone, clothes, personal hygiene, entertainment, etc. It is the most variable and personal component of anyone’s budget.

Please use this cost worksheet to assist you in estimating your direct costs for the upcoming school year. An official bill will be mailed to you from the MACC Business Office.

How is financial aid determined?
Your financial aid offer is valid only if you have been officially admitted as a degree-seeking student to Moberly Area Community College (MACC). Financial aid eligibility is based on the courses you need to complete your declared degree. Your offer is subject to change if a degree audit reveals you are enrolled in courses not required for your declared degree.

Financial aid amounts are determined by a combination of demonstrated financial need, federal aid maximums, and available funding. Federal Pell Grant amounts are based upon your Expected Family Contribution (EFC) and your enrollment status each semester. A chart published by Federal Student Aid is used to determine your amount. The Federal Supplemental Educational Opportunity Grant (FSEOG) is offered to students with the highest need whom applied the earliest (funding is limited). Other need-based financial aid (such as Federal Work-Study and Federal Direct Subsidized Loans) are available to students who demonstrate a need for additional resources to help pay college costs. Student loan maximums are based on federal limits (annual and aggregate). Federal regulations restrict your total financial aid from all programs to the Cost of Attendance (COA).

What is the Expected Family Contribution (EFC)?
The EFC measures your family’s financial strength; it is a reasonable figure your family is expected to contribute toward your educational expenses. A formula called Federal Methodology, legislated by the U.S. Congress, uses the information reported on your Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA) to calculate your EFC. Your EFC is NOT the amount you must pay your school.

Can I use financial aid to pay for my books?
If you have enough financial aid to cover the costs of your tuition and fees, and you have a credit balance on your account, you may charge books and supplies at any MACC Bookstore beginning approximately one week before classes begin. The amount you charge cannot exceed your credit balance.

Can I receive financial aid at more than one institution?
No. You can attend more than one institution in a semester, but you can only receive federal/state financial aid at one.

How does enrollment and attendance impact my financial aid offer?
If you receive a financial aid offer before you are enrolled in classes, it will be based on full-time status. After the last day to drop a class with 100% refund, we will check your enrollment status and adjust your aid according to the number of credit hours you are enrolled in, and have attended, and are required for your degree program. If your eligibility changes, you will be sent a new financial aid offer.

Can anyone contact the Financial Aid Office on my behalf?
No. If you plan to have someone else contact the Financial Aid Office about your student account (such as a parent or spouse) you must complete a “Student Consent to Release Education Records” form.

What if my household size or income changes after I complete the FAFSA?
If the information you reported on FAFSA is no longer accurate, please contact the Financial Aid Office to discuss the possibility of completing an Unusual Circumstances Appeal.

What will happen if I withdraw from all or some of my classes?
Withdrawing from all or some of your classes will impact your financial aid eligibility for the current and future semesters, as will the grades you earn in your classes each semester. It is very important for you to contact your academic and financial aid advisors to understand how withdrawing might impact your aid and academic standing. We also encourage you to seek academic assistance to help you succeed.

You must maintain satisfactory academic progress (SAP) toward your degree in order to retain financial aid eligibility; a copy of this policy is enclosed. Also enclosed is a copy of the Return of Title Four Funds Policy which will explain what happens to your aid when you withdraw from classes.
