Catalog Description: HST105H American History to 1865 (Honors) (3-0-3)
This course is a survey of the economic, social, and diplomatic aspects of the United States from 1492 to the Civil War. A study of the federal and Missouri constitutions is included. Honors sections of American History to 1865 stress critical thinking and analytical writing. Credit may not be received for both HST 105 and HST 105H. (IN)

Prerequisite/Corequisite: Student must meet the criteria for admission into the Honors Program.

Text(s): The text is an ebook included with the class. There is no print option available in the MACC bookstore.
Title: The American Journey: A History of the United States
Author: Goldfield
Publisher: Pearson

Other required materials: None

Purpose of the Course: The purpose of the American History survey course is to enable students to learn about their legacy from the historical past of the United States. This should assist them in relating the present to the past in order to see how the present came to be as it is. The course should prepare students to be informed and conscientious citizens, to help them compare this country and its values and experiences with those of other countries, and finally, to begin to see themselves as an integral link between the historical past and the anticipated future of this nation.

Course Objectives:
1. To learn something about the discipline of history and to think about why people involve themselves in the study of history.
2. To learn more about the pre-European phase of American history
3. To learn why the Americas were “discovered” and colonized by the Europeans at the time they were
4. To learn more about European colonial operations here in the Americas and especially in North America
5. To discover the reasons for the English colonists in North America wanting to become independent of the Mother Country
6. To look at the role played by the U.S. Constitution and the Bill of Rights in pulling the country together and in creating the format for a government which has served the citizens of the United States for more than 200 years
7. To look into the factors creating the growth of early American national feeling and then examine the factors which were starting to break apart that unity during the period from 1820-1860
8. To examine the devastating effects of the Civil War and the slow, painful process of reunification for America
9. To examine the African American experience under slavery
10. To examine the early advances for women's rights in American society
11. To examine the multi-cultural dynamics of 19th American society

Assessment of Student Learning: Instructors will state their course requirements and grading system. Student learning outcomes may be measured through, but not limited to, the following: objective and essay questions, papers, quizzes, oral presentations, class participation, small group work, and/or projects. Each instructor is free to use their own grading procedures, consistent with the general policies and guidelines of the College.

Grading Scale:
A – 90-100%
B – 80-89%
C – 70-79%
D – 60-69%
F – 0-59%

Expected Study Time Commitments: Students should expect to spend approximately 2 to 4 hours per week studying, reading, and working on assignments for each registered credit hour. For example, 6 to 12 study hours per week may be expected for a 3-credit hour class.

Description of Major Assignments: Each instructor may make reading assignments, book reports or term paper assignments or any other out of class assignments of a scholarly nature which they feel will enhance the quality of the student’s experience in the class. Because this is a college-level class, analytical writing should be stressed. Writing assignments may vary in length, structure and topic. Students in honors sections of courses will be assigned further... written and/or verbal projects in lieu of or in addition to the workload for non-honors sections of this course.

Schedule of Student Assignments/Activities: Instructors will identify a Student Assignment / Activities schedule. Instructors have the prerogative to construct the schedule by class periods, weeks or an overview of topics to be covered.

Statement to Connect Course with General Education Outcomes: In compliance with MACC’s General Education outcomes, the student who successfully completes this course will be able to:

- Higher Order Thinking: Students will demonstrate the ability to distinguish among opinions, facts, and inferences; to identify underlying or implicit assumptions; to make informed judgments; to solve problems by applying evaluative standards; and to reflect upon and refine those problem-solving skills. This outcome involves creative thinking, critical thinking, and quantitative literacy.

- Communication: Students will demonstrate the ability to communicate effectively through oral, written, or digital channels using the English language or quantitative or other symbolic systems. Students should be able to write and speak with thoughtfulness, clarity, coherence, and persuasiveness; read and listen critically; and select channels appropriate to the audience and message.

- Managing Information: Students will demonstrate the ability to discern when there is a need for information; and to identify, locate, evaluate, and effectively and responsibly use and share that information for the problem at hand.

- Valuing: Students will demonstrate the ability to understand the moral and ethical values of a diverse society; and to appreciate the values of diversity, equity, and sustainability.

College / Instructor Policies:

Academic Dishonesty: MACC board policy is as follows: “Academic dishonesty by students damages institutional credibility and unfairly jeopardizes honest students; therefore, it will not be tolerated in any form.” Forms of academic dishonesty include but are not limited to the following: violations of copyright law, plagiarism, fabrication, cheating, collusion, and other academic misconduct. Incidents of dishonesty regarding assignments, examinations, classroom/laboratory activities, and/or the submission of misleading or false information to the College will be treated seriously. The procedure for handling academic dishonesty is outlined in the Student Handbook (Policy Handbook, M.010). In cases of alleged academic dishonesty, the burden of proof is on the student, not on the instructor.

Attendance Policy: Students are expected to attend all class sessions for which they are enrolled. The College reserves the right to drop or withdraw students from courses due to lack of attendance.

Students need to be aware that dropping/being dropped from a course and their last date of attendance in the course may impact their financial aid.

MACC faculty are required to track attendance and report lack of attendance. An instructor must complete the appropriate steps to drop a student within one week following the student’s violation of the attendance policy. Additionally, a student’s attendance rate will be calculated based upon the first day the academic session begins (not the student’s date of enrollment in the course). If a student does not attend a course as defined below, the student will be dropped as “Never Attended.”

Term Length Drop Calculations

- 16-week: Any student who misses two (2) consecutive weeks of class will be dropped from the course by the instructor unless acceptable justification is provided by the student and the student still has the opportunity to be successful in the course.

- 8-week: Any student who misses one (1) consecutive week of class will be dropped from the course by the instructor unless acceptable justification is provided by the student and the student still has the opportunity to be successful in the course.

- 4-week: Any student who misses two (2) consecutive days of class will be dropped from the course by the instructor unless acceptable justification is provided by the student and the student still has the opportunity to be successful in the course.

- Intersession: Any student who misses one (1) day of class will be dropped from the course by the instructor unless acceptable justification is provided by the student and the student still has the opportunity to be successful in the course.

Acceptable justification may include, but is not limited to, family emergencies, illness or injury, college-approved co-curricular and extra-curricular activities, and religious holidays.
