Catalog Description: ECE240 Emergent Language and Literacy  3-0-3
This course examines the emergence of language and literacy in young children as a dynamic process requiring support of receptive and expressive language skills, both oral and written. Students will learn to assess language development and literacy learning and analyze and select appropriate literature and other learning materials for diverse learners, including linguistic diversity.

Prerequisite:
ECE170 Beginning Laboratory in Preschool or ECE160 Beginning Laboratory in Infant/Toddler Settings or ECE150 CDA Seminar or CDA credential; and LAL 101 Composition I

Pre or Co-Requisite:
ECE210 Early and Middle Childhood

Text:
Author: Machado, Jeanne M.
Text: Early Childhood Experiences in Language Arts (11th edition)

Other Required Materials:
A filing system to store your hard copy assignments and information and a USB Flash drive to store electronic copies of work from all Early Childhood Courses. Also headphones with a USB cord and a microphone.

Special Facilities/Equipment:
Students may be required to complete assignments that involve having access to a child or children in an Early Childhood facility. Hybrid, virtual and online courses require regular access

Purpose of Course:
Appropriate support of emerging language is paramount to normal development and is the subject of much current research. Nationally, there is a strong emphasis on literacy skills within all levels of education. As a result, parenting anxiety often takes the form of pressuring children into Developmentally Inappropriate Practices for literacy development. In this course, not only will students learn the skills to support optimal language and literacy development in children, but also how to articulate these to parents leading to long-term academic success.

Connection with Career and Technical Education (CTE) Outcome Statement:
In compliance with MACC’s CTE outcomes, the student who successfully completes this course will be able to:

Outcome I:
Students will demonstrate effective written and oral communication skills.
  • 4.1 Demonstrate effective written and oral communication skills using Standard English.

Outcome III:
Students will think critically while systematically assessing problems, identifying issues and implementing solutions.
  • 3.0 Integrate foundational knowledge, appropriate early learning standards and other sources to design, implement and evaluate a meaningful and challenging curriculum to promote positive outcomes for children
    o 3.1 Apply principles of developmentally appropriate practice, developmental theory, inquiry tools and incorporate knowledge of content areas and disciplines in meeting learning standards
    o 3.2. Use research and evidence based teaching approaches, strategies and tools
    o 3.4 Apply principles of effective classroom environments in the physical set-up and layout, the social and emotional climate and through engaging teacher-student interactions

  2.0 Support and empower families and communities through respectful, reciprocal relationships. By understanding the development of families in a systems context, students will develop a commitment to utilizing community resources and other professional partnerships that support children as learners and their families

Outcome V:
Students will demonstrate skill mastery and will pursue lifelong learning in their field while adapting to changing industry standards and following evidence-based practices.
  • 1.0 Have a working knowledge of child development, its theories and the principles of developmentally appropriate practice and use this understanding of the multiple influences on child learning and development to build supportive interactions and implement intentional teaching practices within a safe and healthy learning environment

- 3.3 Know and understand the objectives of assessment; use assessment tools and approaches responsibly and interpret data for developmentally appropriate classroom planning and instruction

Course Objectives:
- 1.2b. Synthesize the major theoretical perspectives of child development into a personal theory of child development.
- 3.4a. Articulate how to create environments and experiences that respect and affirm cultural, linguistic, and developmental diversity.
- 2.1b. Plan strategies to involve linguistically diverse families in the enrichment of the learning environment
- 3.3c. Interpret evidence to evaluate a child's learning and development.
- 3.3d. Use evidence from classroom-based assessment to guide decisions about children's learning.
- 3.1d. Use appropriate communication strategies to support exploration and creative problem-solving in process-focused learning.
- 3.2a. Use a variety of teaching strategies, to support children’s optimal development.
- 3.2b. Select and use appropriate learning formats (routines, play/centers, large and small groups) based on universal, contextual and individual development of the child/children and group
- 3.1a.1. List and describe central concepts appropriate to early learning and development of language and literacy and resources to deepen understanding of the academic discipline
- 3.2c. Plan developmentally appropriate opportunities for learning central concepts of the academic disciplines, selecting effective inquiry tools for the sources of knowledge (conventional, logico-mathematical, or physical)
- 3.1b. Address curriculum standards and objectives, including the Missouri Early Learning Standards and Show-Me Standards, through a play-centered curriculum that includes the major content areas

Course Content:
- Theories of language and literacy
- Language and literacy development
- Linguistic and developmental diversity
- Enhancing language and literacy

Any student who misses two consecutive weeks of class during a regular sixteen week semester or the equivalent proportion of the class time during a shorter session will be dropped from the class by the instructor unless acceptable justification is supplied. Additionally, any student who misses more than one-fourth of the entire number of in-seat class meetings in a regular 16-week semester or the equivalent proportion of class time during a shorter session, may be dropped from that class by that instructor if, in the opinion of the instructor, the student does not have reasonable opportunity to succeed in the class. A student’s attendance rate will be calculated based upon first day of semester (not the student’s date of enrollment in the course).

For online, hybrid, and virtual courses:
Student attendance in these courses is defined as active participation in the course. Online, hybrid, and virtual courses will, at a minimum, have weekly mechanisms for student participation, such as any or all of the following methods:

a. Completion of quizzes or exams
b. Submission of assignments
c. Participation in threaded discussions
d. Communication with the instructor

A student who does not participate in an online, hybrid, or virtual course for two consecutive weeks will be dropped by the instructor unless acceptable justification is supplied. As with ground courses, a student’s attendance rate in online courses will also be calculated based upon the first day of the semester. If a student does not demonstrate active participation in the online course within the first two weeks (or the equivalent proportion of class time during a short session), the student will be dropped as “never attended”. Simply logging into an online class does not constitute active participation.

For Virtual/Blackboard Collaborate Attendance:
In a virtual class participation includes being able to hear and respond orally during Blackboard Collaborate sessions. A working headset is mandatory to meet this requirement.
If there is a technology glitch that disconnects freezes or otherwise interferes with the instructor’s transmission, you are expected to wait ten (10) minutes before leaving Blackboard Collaborate. If the instructor is not able to reconnect, or communicate with you through Blackboard Collaborate, after 10 minutes, she will post an announcement in Tristate with further instructions as soon as possible.

Note: Although it is the student’s right to make judgments about the legitimacy of his/her absence from class, the instructor must follow college policy. It is important to notify your instructor in writing or by email in advance of planned absences and as soon as possible in the event of emergency absences, Assignments do count as part of your attendance and should be turned in even when absent. However, the instructor makes every effort to make class time valuable to student success, so absences (including tardiness or leaving early) do affect the student’s ability to be successful in the course and may lead to dismissal or failure. Therefore, it is recommended that you make arrangements with another student to get notes, handouts and assignments. DO NOT contact instructor for this information.

Students should be aware that dropping a course and their last date of attendance in the course may impact their financial aid.

Tardiness:
Prompt attendance is expected at all class meetings, both at the beginning and returning from breaks. You should be logged into Blackboard Collaborate and have your “Audio Check” completed by 7:25 p.m. Tardiness, extended breaks and leaving class early are considered partial absences and will impact your success accordingly.

Make-up and late work:
All assignments should be submitted by [time] of the date due. You may have a one week extension on three assignments during the semester. You must contact the instructor by email within 24 hours of the due date and time. If contact is not made within 24 hours, a 25% deduction from the final grade will be assessed for the 24 hours after the original deadline. There will be an additional 25% deduction for each additional 24 hours the assignment is late. That means the best grade you can get on this late work is a “C” and after four days it is a “0”.
Since you have three free passes, there will be no further appeals accepted for late work.

Extra-credit work:
Per instructor policy. Must show improved mastery of the specific content of the course. It should only be granted to students who have submitted all regular work on time.
There may be occasional opportunities to earn additional points in this class by completing supplementary assignments to improve mastery of material you found difficult. To be eligible for this extra credit, all regular assignments must have been submitted on time.
In keeping with the program emphasis on writing skills, you may also earn an extra credit point by correcting a written error in handouts or tests produced by the instructor. Submit your correction in writing.

Using other Sources:
Educators commonly borrow ideas and activities from books, other teachers, co-workers, students, the Internet, magazines, workshops, etc. While it is permissible to use these resources, it is important that you tell us where you found the idea. Failure to do so is plagiarism. At a minimum, you need to cite the name of the author and title of the source or the person’s name.

Internet Requirements:
As in the nature of an Online or Hybrid course, the bulk of the work required for student assessment must be submitted through Canvas. This requires regular access to a word processing program and internet.

Schedule of Student Assignment and Activities:
Instructors will identify a Student Assignment/Activities schedule. Instructors have the prerogative to construct the schedule by class periods, weeks, or an overview of topics to be covered.

COLLEGE POLICIES

Attendance:
Students are expected to attend all class sessions for which they are enrolled. The College reserves the right to drop or withdraw students from courses due to lack of attendance.

Students need to be aware that dropping/being dropped from a course and their last date of attendance in the course may impact their financial aid.

Keep all Early Childhood Education syllabi and assignments for your Professional Portfolio. Must earn a grade of a “C” or better in all Early Childhood courses.
MACC faculty are required to track attendance and report lack of attendance. An instructor must complete the appropriate steps to drop a student within one week following the student’s violation of the attendance policy. Additionally, a student’s attendance rate will be calculated based upon the first day the academic session begins (not the student’s date of enrollment in the course). If a student does not attend a course as defined below, the student will be dropped as “Never Attended.”

Term Length Drop Calculations

16-week: Any student who misses two (2) consecutive weeks of class will be dropped from the course by the instructor unless acceptable justification is provided by the student and the student still has the opportunity to be successful in the course.

8-week: Any student who misses one (1) consecutive week of class will be dropped from the course by the instructor unless acceptable justification is provided by the student and the student still has the opportunity to be successful in the course.

4-week: Any student who misses two (2) consecutive days of class will be dropped from the course by the instructor unless acceptable justification is provided by the student and the student still has the opportunity to be successful in the course.

Intersession: Any student who misses one (1) day of class will be dropped from the course by the instructor unless acceptable justification is provided by the student and the student still has the opportunity to be successful in the course.

Acceptable justification may include, but is not limited to, family emergencies, illness or injury, college-approved co-curricular and extra-curricular activities, and religious holidays.

Definition of Course Attendance

In Seat Course
- Physically attending scheduled, face-to-face, class meetings

Virtual Course
- Being present, via appropriate platform, for scheduled class meetings/activities

Hybrid Course
- Physically attending scheduled, face-to-face, class meetings and active participation in the online portion of the course which may include any or all of the following:
  - Completion of quizzes or exams during class meetings and online
  - Submission of assignments during class meetings and online
  - Participation in discussions during class meetings and online

Online Course
- Active participation in an online course includes the following:
  - Completion of quizzes or exams
